

TransitForms

TURN PAPER INTO DATA

TransitForms is an optional addition to TransitCheck which allows Operators to automate a form which a driver now completes on paper, into an electronic organized, supported process on their tablet. This can include any form from something as important as an accident report to something as simple as a time off request -- if drivers complete it now on paper, it can be automated. Forms can be set so that when they are completed by a driver, a notification of the form is automatically emailed or texted to the proper staff. The system automatically captures the date, time, and location the form is completed and can have mandatory fields. Unlike paper forms, electronic forms can be updated quickly by the user and the updated forms pushed out to devices instantly. The electronic forms also allow for unlimited expandability, for instance where the number of "involved parties" can vary from one, to any number. The forms support data input via pictures and video, plus tools such as text to speech make it simple for drivers to input data without time consuming typing.
